

The Power of We™ Consortium

is pleased to present AT NO COST

“How Nonprofits Can Connect with Universities and Colleges”

Tuesday, March 8, 2011, 3:00-4:30 p.m.

Conf. Rm. A, HSB, 5303 S. Cedar

Valuable information will be presented to help nonprofit organizations tap into the wealth of resources available through our colleges and universities:

- Building your nonprofit's capacity through paid and unpaid student resources
- Determining which type of student resources will best meet the needs of your nonprofit:
 - How to gain access and connect with student interns
 - How to request and obtain course-connected, and curricular service-learning and civic engagement students
 - How to recruit and secure individual and/or group volunteers
- Initiating and developing a working relationship with higher education staff
- Utilizing college fairs and events
- Utilizing web-based systems to recruit

This will be a highly interactive workshop encouraging networking, questions and answers.

Workshop Presenters:

- Paul Jaques, Internship Developer, Career Services, Michigan State University,
- Dick Scott, Apprenticeship Coordinator, Capital Area Information Technology Apprenticeship Initiative, Lansing Community College
- Karen McKnight Casey, Director, Service-Learning and Civic Engagement, Michigan State University
- Nicole C. Springer, Assistant Director, Service-Learning and Civic Engagement, MSU

Registration begins at 2:30 p.m. Advance Registration is Requested. Please send separate registrations for each participant to powerofweconsortium@ingham.org . Thank you!

March 8, 2011
Last Name
First Name
Title
Organization
Phone Number
E-Mail Address	